CISSP as an Art

The Mystery Box AND Security Terms

created by Dave Krungal

Once upon a time in cyberhood, there lived a man called Dave.
He was determined to study and pass CISSP.

He was focused untill one day,
he finds something...

A mystery box!

He opened...

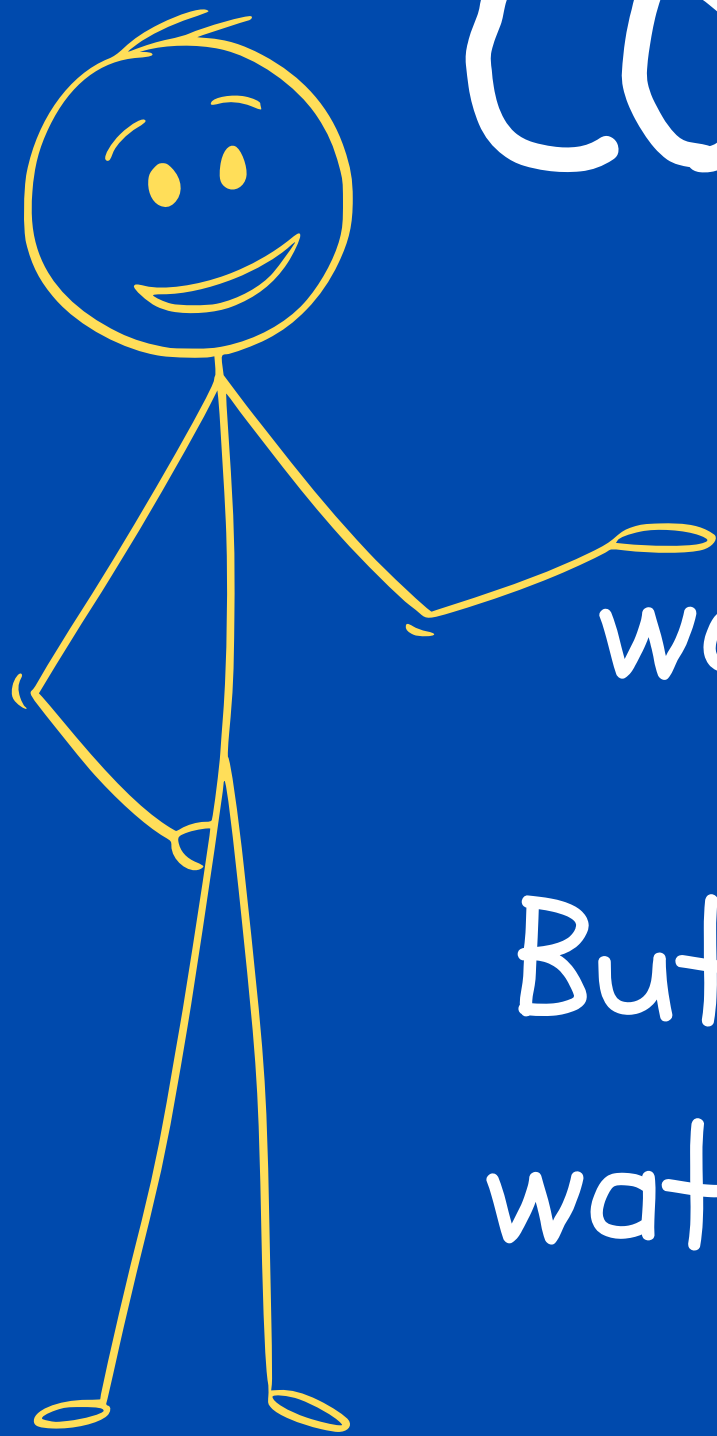

YESFLIX

The YESFLIX released the most intriguing web series.

GAME OF CACTUS

COOL!

"It wouldn't hurt
watching few episodes."

But Dave ended up binge watching all the seasons!

AFTER
70 hours, 14 min

Oh No!

"My precious time is gone."

"I feel exhausted."

Dave wondered about the mystery box. He opened his CISSP book to find the answer.

Fundamentals of Security Terms

THREAT AGENT

an entity that pose the threat,
an unwanted outcome such as mystery box

→ Gives rise to THREAT

a danger, such as YESFLIX that has potential to exploit the Vulnerability

p.t.o

→ Threat Exploits

VULNERABILITY

a weakness in human or system such as Dave's weakness: he failed to identify his priority between study and pleasure...

leads to Risk

a likelihood that threat will exploit the vulnerability. The risk for Dave was to waste his precious time!

→ Risk can damage
ASSET

you are the asset. or it could be anything you protect such as system or software

can cause
EXPOSURE

it's an asset loss – Dave has lost 70 hours and 14 minutes.

→ p.t.o

→ Addressing exposure requires security control
SAFEGUARD

Safeguard is implemented to mitigate the risk

DAVE GOT AN IDEA!

L

Dave builds a TIME MACHINE

Dave time traveled until he finds something...

... a mystery box!

Dave put the lock on the box and applied conditions (safeguards):

- 1) The box will only open after he reads one CISSP chapter
- 2) Only one episode can be accessed within 24 hours

DAVE WAS
